Infratil is a company managed by HRL Morrison & Co that invests in infrastructure utilities, and has been working with the Waitakere City Council on options for Whenuapai Airport when the New Zealand Airforce will move away. The Public Works Act and Airport Authorities Act create some restraints on how the land can be used, but working around these to provide a working solution surrounding a Civilian Airport in West Auckland is likely to have major economic benefits for the businesses and people of West Auckland.
